Transit Strike In Philadelphia Starts Second Day

Traffic Tie-Up Continues As Negotiators Fail To Settle Strike

NEW CONFERENCE IS NOW UNDER WAY

(BULLETIN)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—(INS)—A fresh attempt was made by weary, but stubborn negotiators today to end a paralyzing transportation strike that has clamped a lock on all trolley, bus and subway service in Philadelphia.

Representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. and the CIO Transport Workers Union, representing the 11,000 workers who walked off the job yesterday, went into their second meeting with federal mediators at 10:45 a.m.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Union and company representatives will meet with federal mediators again today in an attempt to end a transportation strike that has paralyzed all trolley, bus and subway service in Philadelphia.

Federal Conciliator John Murray scheduled the talks for today, after a three hour "exploratory" session ended shortly before last midnight.

The CIO-Transport Workers Union, representing the 11,000 operators and maintenance men who walked out yesterday, stood firm on its demand for a 20-cents an hour wage hike.

The Philadelphia Transportation Company has offered the workers a three-cent raise.

No Settlement In Sight

Murray reported that both sides "gave the fullest cooperation."

Churchill May Meet Truman

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 12.—(INS)—A New England meeting between President Truman and Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, loomed today as a distinct possibility.

Both statesmen have accepted invitations to appear at the international mid-century convocation at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Churchill is scheduled to address 5,000 scientists on March 31. The president will arrive the following day for his speech.

While it has not yet been stated definitely that the two statesmen will meet, it was generally felt Churchill will remain overnight to meet Mr. Truman for the first time in three years.

Pa Newc Observes

Sounded like spring on the public square about 5:30 o'clock Friday evening. A large flock of small birds was settling in the trees and making a very noticeable chorus of chirps.

In a local barbershop Pa Newc noted a new gadget in use. It was a little electric machine that turned out soapy lather without any effort on the part of the barber. Quantities of as much as were wanted were produced by regulating the machine.

Letter carriers have been a little busier than usual during the past few days as they delivered the annual quota of Valentines mailed here. Monday is Valentine day.

Protests May Force Reds To Back Down Now

Such Is Belief Expressed By Cardinal Spellman At Havana Meeting

HAVANA, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, believes the world-wide protests against treatment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty will force the Communists to back down.

Cardinal Spellman, in Havana to speak at an inter-American convention of the Catholic Action Organization, said last night he was stunned and gratified by the mobilization of all faiths in demands for Cardinal Mindszenty's release.

He declared:

"It doesn't seem possible that the Communists can withstand this marshalling of public opinion . . .

"If Cardinal Mindszenty dies or is subjected to further torture it will dramatize the shocking fact that more than 600,000 American boys alone were killed or crippled in a war designed to rid Europe of the very kind of despotism now evident in this case."

Retail Meat Prices Reported Dropping Across Nation

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Retail meat prices across the nation were reported today to be dropping sharply in the wake of similar declines in the wholesale markets.

An International News Service survey showed that beef prices are leading the downward trend at the meat counters, while wholesale costs of good grade beef have dipped as much as 44 per cent from last summer's peak.

The American Meat Institute reported that dressed beef is selling on the basic New York market for 22 per cent less than a month ago. Choice beef also has declined a similar amount in the last 30 days and is 41 per cent below the peak.

Deny Experts Who Fled Hungary Served In Trial

BUDAPEST, Feb. 12.—(INS)—The Hungarian justice ministry denied today that Laszlo and Hannah Sulner, Hungarian handwriting experts who fled to Austria, served in any capacity during the trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

A statement said that the Sulners were acquainted with the cardinal's handwriting only from the yellow book published by the government and containing a purported confession written in his own hand.

Red Meteor Course Has Been Traced

BEND, Ore., Feb. 12.—(INS)—The red meteor, a fireball notable for its size and noise, has been traced on a course over southwestern Utah after four months of work by Dr. J. Hugh Pruett of the University of Oregon.

The astronomer said today the fireball was visible from several states on last Oct. 14, when it became luminous about 75 miles high over southwestern Utah.

The meteor disappeared at about 20 miles elevation southeast of Salt Lake City.

Gen. Eisenhower In Washington As Top Advisor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned officially to Washington today as top military advisor to President Truman and peacemaking chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Eisenhower's appointment as presidential advisors and staff chairman was announced by the White House, confirming reports that "Ike" would return to some form of active duty, and making his work here official.

The announcement also said that Eisenhower's appointment was temporary. In asking leave of absence from his job as president of Columbia University Eisenhower said he planned to remain in Washington "seven or eight weeks."

Canadian Prime Minister Makes Visit To Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent sandwiched social engagements today between talks on the deadly serious business of the North Atlantic Pact.

St. Laurent is in Washington at the invitation of President Truman, and is Mr. Truman's guest for lunch. Tomorrow he will lunch with Secretary of State Acheson.

But the lunches, and a reception at the Canadian embassy this afternoon, are secondary to discussions with the president and Acheson over the defensive alliance and other matters involving the United States and Canada.

Action Taken By Pope Pius

All Roman Catholics Involved In Cardinal's Trial Are Excommunicated

ROME, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Pope Pius XII excommunicated today all Roman Catholics involved in the trial and conviction of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, placing them "beyond the pale" with others excommunicated earlier because of their part in his arrest.

The extreme church penalty, meted out in accordance with canon law, affects "all principal accomplices regardless of rank." It thus embraces participants from government officials down to the humblest guard.

In a simultaneous letter to the Catholic episcopate, the Pontiff called for worldwide prayers for Cardinal Mindszenty and authorized Catholic priests everywhere to celebrate two special masses for him on Passion Sunday, April 3.

Pope Pius did not mention So-

TWO SHIPS RAMMED

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12.—(INS)—The S. S. John W. Meldrum today rammed into two ships docked at Algiers Point across the Mississippi from New Orleans, and one of the vessels suffered a gaping hole in its side.

The badly damaged ship—said to be in danger of sinking—is the S. S. Alcoa-Pioneer. Also struck, but damaged only slightly was the S. S. New Rochelle Trails.

No one was reported injured in the collision and the extent of damage was unknown. The Meldrum and the New Rochelle Trails were towed to nearby Chalmette Slip.

U. S. And Britain Chart Courses To Halt Communism

Freedom Of Religion Is Fundamental Issue In Parallel Course Of Nations

COMMUNISTS ARE DEVELOPING ISSUE

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The United States and Britain charted a parallel course today in making freedom of religion the fundamental issue in the war against the spread of Communism.

This decision has been reached because it is an issue which can rally most of the civilized world against the spread of Soviet domination.

The issue is being rapidly readied by the Communist threat.

New Blizzards In Far Western States Reported

DENVER, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Arctic blasts and new blizzards knifed into Wyoming again today and other far western states also felt the effects of the storms and a cold air mass moving south from Canada.

Screaming cold winds churned up old snow and brought new suffering to humans and livestock from the Canadian border into western Kansas.

Blowing snow offered a new threat to train movements and auto travel through Wyoming—the nation's most sorely-beset state this winter.

New snow hit the western portion of Utah and brought a cold wave into Colorado. Snow and blowing snow struck western Nebraska. Western Kansas also felt the effects of the new storm.

Russia Charges Yugoslavia To Hostile To Soviet

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Russia charged the Communist government of Yugoslavia today with being "hostile" towards the Soviet Union in rejecting a Yugoslav appeal for Russian economic aid.

Russia's latest blast against Marshal Tito's regime was made by the Moscow radio in response to a Yugoslav protest against being excluded from the "Molotov plan," Russia's rival to the Marshall plan for European recovery.

The Moscow radio said that Yugoslavia has "assumed a hostile attitude toward the USSR and the countries of the peoples' democracies." Russia's name for the countries of eastern Europe.

New Galilee Road Home Is Fire Destroyed

Fire which developed about 9:30 Friday night in the home of Mike Pecore R. D. No. 1, New Galilee burned the five room structure to the ground.

The fire developed as a result of a kitchen stove explosion.

Mrs. Pecore heard the explosion after she had retired for the evening, and rescue of six sleeping children, before they were harmed was effected.

The Wampum fire department was called, but was unable to save the home, the fire having gained too great headway.

Nothing was saved from the home, and the family escaped with only the clothing they wore.

Two Republican Senators Draft New Labor Bill

Senators Morse And Ives Preparing Compromise Labor Measure

MODELED AFTER RAILWAY ACT

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Two Republican Senators today are drafting a compromise labor law which will embody the railway labor act procedures for handling national emergency strikes.

The authors are Sens. Morse (R Ore.), and Ives (R N.Y.). Their measure will abandon the anti-strike injunction weapon and provide for a "cooling off" period and recommendations by a presidential emergency board.

This is essentially the approach of the administration's proposed substitute for the Taft-Hartley law on nation's emergency strikes, but the Morse-Ives bill will go beyond the Democratic proposal on other features.

Hope Taft Will Go Along

Morse and Ives hope that Sen. Taft (R Ohio) will go along on their measure. It may be ready next week, but the authors have not decided whether to offer it as a complete substitute for the administration bill or in the form of amendments.

Ives indicated that the Taft-Hartley's law 80-day injunction provision would be scrapped because it has not been effective and has stirred widespread resentment among unions.

The New Yorker and Morse believe that in a real crisis the President could ask Congress for specific legislation, if the "cooling off" period and the fact-finding procedure does not settle the strike.

Basically, Morse and Ives would go back to the original labor bill approved by the Senate Labor committee 1947. This measure was amended in the Senate to include many of the more stringent restrictions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Taft previously indicated that he would be willing to accept this bill as the "starting point" for new labor legislation in the current Congress.

Demand From Hungary That U.S. Recall Chapin

Labor Law Compromise By Congress Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Administration sources conceded today that congress probably will enact a compromise labor law somewhere between the Taft-Hartley Act and the proposed Democratic substitute.

During the three-day recess of senate labor committee hearings, one well-informed official made this appraisal of the situation:

"It doesn't look like we are going to get anything very close to the Thomas bill."

The latter measure, introduced by Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, chair-

Union With Eire Plan Defeated

BELFAST, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Northern Irish proponents of union with Eire were overwhelmingly rejected today on the basis of almost final returns in the Ulster parliamentary election.

The pro-British Union party captured 35 of the 52 seats in the Northern Ireland Congress while the Nationalists who favor union with Eire got only nine.

Minor parties divided most of the remaining seats.

Truman Program Will Be Discussed

Tax-Writing Democratic Legislators To Confer With President Tuesday

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—A conference next Tuesday between President Truman and tax-writing Democratic members of congress today apparently set the stage for a frank discussion of the administration's program.

Rep. Doughton (D N. C.), revealed that the President has invited Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee to confer with him February 15.

The invitation followed a request to congressional leaders by the President that his social security recommendations be placed ahead of his request for a four billion dollar tax increase.

To Reveal Plans

It was anticipated that the President would reveal to the congressmen his taxation plans for this year. The situation has become somewhat muddled as a result of a dropping market and a statement by Sen. George (D Ga.), that Congress should postpone until next January consideration of new taxes.

The chairman of the Senate Finance committee thought it might even be unnecessary to increase taxes if the President's budget was cut.

Doughton said the President gave no indication as to why he called the White House conference. The committee chairman said the members were always glad to talk things over with the President.

BROWN-RAMSEY HOME WEDDING

At a quiet ceremony performed in her home this morning at 11:30 o'clock, Miss Margaret Gaby Brown, daughter of Mrs. Oliver Phillip Brown, of 325 Park avenue, and the late Mr. Brown, became the bride of Ralph Herbert Ramsey, of 323 Park avenue.

Guests included members of the immediate families and several out of town relatives.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated at the single ring ceremony before an embankment of greens and white candles in crystal holders on the mantel and palms and ferns in front of the fireplace.

The bride was attired in a gown of aqua crepe, fashioned with a high jewelry neckline, short sleeves and a draped skirt. Her wrist corsage was of spring flowers in pastel colors.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to 16. Aides were Mrs. Robert B. Jameson, Mrs. John Connery, both of whom are aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Carl E. Paisley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey left on a motor trip to New Orleans, La., Florida and Dallas, Texas, and after March 15, will be at home at 325 Park avenue.

Mrs. Ramsey was until recently on the editorial staff of the New Castle News, and Mr. Ramsey is a partner in the firm of D. G. Ramsey and Sons.

C. D. OF A. WILL PLAN FOR DANCE

Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa Irene No. 231, will have an important business meeting Monday evening, February 14, in the St. Mary's auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Johnson Bible Class

Johnson Bible class of First U. P. church was entertained February 9 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wing, Leisure avenue. Devotions were led by Miss Helen Jenkins and B. F. Johnson.

A sale was the evening's feature, when each member auctioned his article.

Mrs. Clarence McGaffie aided the hosts in serving a tasty lunch.

MRS. JAMES FEE FETED AT DINNER

Mrs. James Fee, a former local resident now residing in Wilkinsburg, was feted February 5, at a dinner, honoring her birthday. Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, numbering 25, enjoyed the surprise function at an inn at Harlansburg.

Following dinner, the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fee, West Washington street, where cards were played.

In behalf of the family, Mrs. Charles Schooley presented the honoree with a purse of money.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Gilboy, and family, Wilkinsburg, were out-of-town guests.

AMITY CLUB HAS VALENTINE PARTY

Miss Gisella Morganti entertained the Amity club at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Davis, Jackson avenue, Thursday evening at their "val" party.

Valentine favors marked each place, and the group was served a delicious lunch, the hostess' sister, Mrs. Davis, aiding in serving. Bridge was in play during the evening, and high score trophies were won by Mrs. Joseph Sparr, Miss Florence Carney and Mrs. Lowell Fulton.

Miss Florence Carney will be hostess on February 24, in her home, Gilmore street.

MRS. PAUL FISHER IS FETED AT PARTY

Mrs. Paul Fisher, bride of this winter, was honored Thursday evening when Mrs. Percy White and Mrs. Erma Wymer entertained at a delightful party in the White home, Garfield avenue.

After games were enjoyed, refreshments were served at small tables, decorated with valentine place cards. Mrs. Delbert Porter, Mrs. Ralph Cratty and Mrs. Arthur White aided the hostesses.

Mrs. Fisher, nee Miss Donna White, was recipient of a shower of lovely linens for her home on East Grand street.

READING CIRCLE TO MEET, MONDAY

Mrs. Wayne Sitzinger, of 206 Glenmore Blvd., will entertain members of the Reading Circle, Monday afternoon, at 2:30.

Mrs. Edward McNamara will review a play and roll call will be a favorite play character.

Christian Service Group

Women's Society of Christian Service of Christ Methodist church met in the church on Friday evening with Mrs. Edith Cooper, in charge. Miss Emma Pearl had the devotional topic on "What Is A Christian?" Mrs. H. H. Marlin read a letter from India.

Rev. Sulmonetti was introduced as the speaker, taking as a topic, "There Is No Salvation in Romanism, but in Christ Jesus." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anthony Caravaggio. The next meeting will be on February 25, with Mrs. F. Balentine as hostess.

DONNA BARTLETT FETED AT SHOWER

Miss Donna Bartlett, bride-elect of this month, was honored at a lovely miscellaneous shower, held in the home of Mrs. Wade Erwin, of Warren, O., Thursday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Jones, also of Warren, O., was co-hostess. There was a large number of guests present, from both Warren and New Castle.

Games were the pastime of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Russell Williams and Mrs. Donald Bartlett. Miss Bartlett was then showered with an array of lovely and useful gifts.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at a beautifully appointed table, centered with a lovely floral arrangement, with tiny lace umbrellas used as favors.

Miss Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bartlett, of King avenue, will become the bride of Alvin M. March, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. March of 1908 East Washington street, at an open church wedding, at 7:30 Saturday evening, February 19, in the First Methodist church.

Miss Bartlett has chosen Mrs. Floyd Book as her matron of honor and her sisters, the Misses Patty Ann and Nadine Bartlett, to be bridesmaids.

The prospective groom has asked Russell Williams to be best man and Floyd Book and Charles McLain to usher.

OAKWOOD GARDEN CLUB PROGRAM

Mrs. Julian Miller, of Grandview avenue, entertained members of the Oakwood Garden club in her home, Thursday evening, with Mrs. F. W. Moorehead as associate hostess.

Mrs. Gertrude Hemmingsway gave a fine description of her trip to California, the main topic of which was "The Desert and Cactus in Bloom." Mrs. Morie then gave a description of her trip to Florida and told of the many beautiful flowers that she saw. Mrs. Ralph Hay gave an interesting paper on "Insects and Birds."

Mrs. Rowland Peden conducted a Valentine exchange, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Bridge was then enjoyed, with prizes going to Miss Kathryn Boston and Mrs. Robert McBurney. Mrs. Clint Kennaday was winner of the door prize.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, headed by Mrs. Sterling McKee.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Sterling McKee, of 15 West Garfield avenue, March 7, at which time James Campbell will be the speaker.

TOSCHI-FRAZIER MARRIAGE TOLD

St. Vitus rectory was the scene of an impressive wedding ceremony, January 27, at 1:30 p. m., when Miss Josephine Toschi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Toschi, of South Mill street, became the bride of Glenn Fraizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fraizer, of Boston avenue. Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a gown of ivory satin, styled in an off the shoulder effect, bustle back and long train. She wore a fingertip veil, which fell from a headpiece of orange blossoms, and carried two white orchids on a white prayer book, with a shower of white violets. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom.

Josephine Marco, as maid of honor, wore a pink taffeta gown, made off the shoulder, and a large picture hat of pink lace. She carried pink roses with sprays of deep pink flowers.

Jack Logue served the groom as best man.

A dinner was held for the bridal party and the immediate families. Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newly weds are now residing in their newly furnished apartment at 124 Cochran Way.

Mrs. Fraizer is employed at the Shenango Pottery and Mr. Fraizer is with the Perma Stone Co.

B. A. CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Arthur Prioletti, Duquesne avenue, received the B. A. club Thursday evening in her home and tables of 500 were in play.

Prizes were captured by Mrs. Andrew Prioletti, who also captured the club token; Mrs. Tomasello Jr., Mrs. Joseph Panella and Mrs. Anthony Colacura. Special guests were Mrs. Mary Kennedy and Mrs. Myrtle Rickard, and they received prizes. Later the hostess served a dainty lunch, aided by her daughters, Rosina and Janet. The Valentine motif predominated.

February 24 is the meeting with Mrs. Andrew Prioletti, Lorain avenue.

Gay Eight Club

Mrs. John Donofrio, of East Luton street, received the Gay Eight club Thursday evening in her home, and Mrs. Ralph Cialella captured the club token.

Tables of cards were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Ralph Lombardo, Mrs. Ralph Cialella and Mrs. Joseph Pauline.

The hostess later served a dainty lunch, the valentine motif predominating, with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Colucci aiding. Mrs. Colucci was a guest as also was Mrs. Mary Sciola and both received gifts.

February 24 is the meeting with Mrs. Ralph Lombardo, East Reynolds street.

LINDNER CLASS HAS MEETING

Members of the Lindner Bible class of the Highland U. P. church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boalick, of Hillcrest avenue, Thursday evening for their February meeting.

Professor Lindner opened the meeting with prayer, after which the evening was spent in a business discussion and an informal social time.

A delicious lunch was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Dale Marburger, Mrs. Howard Boalick, Mrs. Ruth Printz and Mrs. Henry Breneman.

The next meeting will be a turndown dinner in the church March 8, at which time there will be an election of officers.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA TO MEET, TUESDAY

Mrs. Dean Staley of North Mercer street will entertain members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority Tuesday evening, February 15. Special guest will be Mrs. C. F. Hildenbrand of Baltimore, Md., who is the national visitor. She is the guest of the undergraduate group at Westminster college, but will spend the evening talking with and discussing work of the graduate sorority.

The committee in charge will be Mrs. Ed Grotefend, Mrs. C. F. Whitman and Mrs. William Bissell.

SECTION OF Y.L.B. IS ENTERTAINED

Section C of the Y.L.B. of the Third U. P. church was entertained in the home of Mrs. Mary Carick, of 935 Beckford street, Thursday evening.

Mrs. H. A. Anderson was in charge of business and devotional periods. The evening was spent informally discussing plans for future work. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her two daughters.

Mrs. Charles Douglas, of Rose avenue, will entertain the group, March 10.

Kandelite Club

Mrs. Ralph Russo of Pearson street received the Kandelite club Thursday evening. The table was cleverly arranged for lunch, with a miniature spinning wheel centering the table. Strands of yarn stretched from the wheel to each place, and a valentine also marked the places.

President Mrs. Lillian Humphrey was in charge. Cards and games were played. Mrs. Esther DeLorenzo captured the club token.

Later a delicious lunch was served, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Lillian Humphrey and the special guest, Mrs. Marie Cennane.

February 24 is the meeting with Mrs. Dorothy Santangelo, South Jefferson street.

Family Gathering

A family social gathering was held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles R. Gardner, 412 Martin street, in honor of her two granddaughters, Mrs. Charles Rees and Mrs. Earl Rupert. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ina Gardner and Mrs. Matilda McConahy.

An informal social time was spent and the two honorees were presented with many lovely gifts. Special gifts were Mrs. H. Maneval, of Bessemer, Pa., and Mrs. Thomas Baird, of Mt. Jackson.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sophia Clement and Mrs. James Gardner.

Queen Esther Class

Members of the Queen Esther class of the Third U. P. church will have their annual tureen dinner and election of officers Tuesday evening, February 15, at 6:30 o'clock in the church.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Cecil Potter, Mrs. Leonard Cooley and Mrs. William McKee.

J.B. Union To Have Election Run-Off

Majority Of Votes Needed To Fill Office Of Financial Secretary-Treasurer

Johnson Bronze company local union No. 69, of UAW, CIO will have their run-off vote for the office of financial secretary-treasurer some time within two weeks. This office was not filled in Thursday's election held at the plant.

This announcement was made this morning by the union president, Pete Costello.

In order to be elected for this office, the candidate must receive a majority of votes. In this past election, none of the three candidates up for election received the necessary number of votes needed to be elected. Thus a run-off between Pearl Daugherty and Betty Thompson, candidates for financial secretary-treasurer, has been scheduled.

The other officers to come into office are pro-CIO, the right wing faction, endorsed by the international president of UAW, CIO, Walter P. Reuther.

Victor Ross was the chairman of the election committee, and in the Thursday election he was assisted by Joseph Daugherty, Italy Amabile, Russell Boyd and Joseph Faron.

Edenburg Scouts Have Dinner Event

Troop 29 of the Boy Scouts of Edenburg celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of Scouting by having a program and dinner for the committeemen, Scouts and their families at the Mahoning Grange Hall on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Navarra of Bessemer were special guests. Mr. Navarra as speaker, chose for his topic, "Scouting and Future Scouting." Joseph Leeper served as master of ceremonies while Fred Coates led in the pep singing. Scoutmaster Robert Ernst presented a few brief remarks on "Cooperation in Scouting." Clyde Hassig showed films on "Colorado" and the "Mysteries of Nature."

The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Joseph Leeper, Mrs. Walter List, Mrs. Robert Ernst, Mrs. Fred Coates and Mrs. Sarah McIntosh.

TWU International President Michael Quill warned, however, that no settlement is in sight. The Chamber of Commerce reported that the city's businesses and employees are losing at least 10-million dollars a day because of the strike.

Most business places had an absenteeism rate of 15 to 20 per cent yesterday, the chamber estimated, while 20 per cent of those employees who did get to work were late.

Carry 3,000,000 Daily
The PTC, with its 1500 miles of bus routes and trolley and subway lines, carries more than 3,000,000 passengers daily.

The city had its worst traffic jam in history yesterday as thousands of automobiles were pressed into service to carry workers to and from their jobs.

The automobiles, lined up bumper-to-bumper for miles along the city's main streets, moved only a few inches at a time. In many instances a normal 30-minute drive stretched into two or more hours.

The fire department said it was trying to work out plans to facilitate the movement of fire engines through the thick traffic in the event of emergencies.

Police hoped that the combination of Saturday and Lincoln's birthday would help to limit traffic today. Meanwhile, some 2,000 cabs and the railroads tried to accommodate as many persons as possible.

committee are preparing to call some new high-powered witnesses when hearings resume Monday.

Republican senators have dominated the proceedings thus far, making a case in defense of the existing law. They won an initial victory in getting hearings extended from last Thursday's deadline to Feb. 23.

Next week, the majority tentatively plans to put on the witness stand William Leiserson, former railway mediation board chairman; Walther Reuther, CIO auto workers chief; Nathan Feinsinger, former public member of the war labor board, and Gerhard Van Arckle, ex-NLRB counsel who quit in protest against the Taft-Hartley measure.

Robert S. Frazier Funeral In West

Funeral services for Robert S. Frazier, 241 Richardson avenue, El Cajon, Calif., will be conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Paris mortuary, El Cajon. Entombment will take place in Greenwood mausoleum.

Mr. Frazier, who died Thursday at the age of 36 years in La Mesa hospital, where he was a patient for five weeks, was a former local resident, leaving New Castle nine years ago to reside in Kiltanning and later moving to the west. While in this city, Mr. Frazier worked at H. L. Allen's grocery store and Axe's market.

Born November 19, 1912, in New Castle, he was a son of James A. and Harriet White Frazier.

Survivors include his widow, the former Miss Jeanne Snyder; two children, James David and Robert Frazier III, both at home, and two brothers, James A. Frazier, of this city, and Thomas C. Frazier, Dayton, O.

He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Robert Supplee, New Castle, Mrs. Fred Harding, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Robert Boughter, Pittsburgh.

selves. The outstanding case has been the conviction and life sentence of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty by the Hungarian Red regime.

Another case is being developed by the Bulgarian government. In Sofia 15 pastors of protestant denominations are soon to be brought to trial for charges similar to those lodged against the Hungarian Roman Catholic priests.

In both cases these consist of allegations of espionage and black market dealings.

The attack on the two Balkan governments for this persecution of churchmen has not actually gotten under way. A formal campaign must be mapped out and there is yet no decision on whether to carry the case against Hungary to the United Nations.

Stand Made Clear
The stand of the Western powers, however, has been made clear. They contend that, regardless of the ecclesiastical status of Mindszenty, his trial has shown that any defendant in a Communist controlled court can not have a fair trial.

This is itself a violation of the peace treaty imposed on all defeated powers. One clause in each provides that freedom of speech and religion and other human liberties are to be guaranteed.

Moreover, the Western powers take the position that there could hardly be any "espionage" on Hungary or Bulgaria since both are strictly limited by the treaties to military forces supposedly little more than to maintain internal order and protect their own borders.

East-West cold war was emphasized yesterday by U. S. expulsion of the first secretary of the Hungarian legation, John G. Florian. He was ordered to leave the country "as soon as possible."

This move was generally accepted as retaliation for the ousting by Hungary of two United States diplomats recently.

western mountain and plains states to collide head-on with warring military equipment.

The Wyoming national guard sent a tank expedition yesterday into isolated ranch country to bring aid to snowbound residents. Sweetwater County Commissioner George Stephens accompanied the "winter blitz" operation. He reported success in breaking through the deep snow to the ranches.

Stephens and Lieut. Richard Miller, in command, reported that the big tanks had "performed magnificently" in the towering snowdrifts by pounding down a trail for a supply truck which followed the tank unit.

Winds up to 70 miles an hour continued to whip new snow onto blockaded Union Pacific Railroad lines in south-central Wyoming between Rawlins and Wamsutter.

WORLD WIDE GUILD PROGRAM-MEETING

Members of the World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church held their meeting in the home of Miss Marilyn Joseph, of 106 West Garfield avenue, on a recent evening.

Miss Eleanor Howe was in charge of devotionals and read the scripture. Miss Connie Weplar was in charge of the program and introduced the following: Miss Marilyn Jones, who read an interesting story, "School in the Hollow," followed by a clarinet solo by Miss Eleanor Howe. A piano solo was played by Donna Florida.

Games were played and a tasty lunch was served.

The next meeting will be in the home of Miss Charlotte Beltram, of 412 Norwood avenue, April 8.

BELIEVE CHURCH SUPPRESSION IS CONFORM PLAN

date Communist power in the satellite states in retaliation for the Vatican's relentless denunciation of Communism.

Diplomatic observers recall that suppression of religious influence among the masses is in accordance with the basic principles of Lenin, who once called religion "the opium of the people."

American and French diplomatic quarters in Paris have received unconfirmed rumors of a new communist meeting in Bucharest, but there are no indications that any top Communist leaders are absent from France.

Anti-Religious Measures

It is significant, however, that anti-religious measures have been set in motion in Romania, immediately following the Mindszenty case and the indictment by the Bulgarian government of 15 high Evangelical church leaders in Sofia.

Coincident with the reported communist meeting in Romania, the Communist-dominated government in Bucharest promulgated a series of decrees regulating Romania's church activities.

These provide for government supervision of all church groups, religious training, art and education and for integrating Romanian church activities and relations with those of other nations, presumably the satellite states.

If the conforming meeting in Romania actually is taking place—or has been held—observers believe this is mainly to expand plans and decisions reached at the last such session in Prague. It is felt that any program reaching dimensions of the one apparently being executed at present would take considerable time to organize.

much of Eisenhower's job will be to iron out "difficulties in the joint chiefs of staff."

A spokesman told newsmen that these "difficulties" fall into two categories:

"1. The question of agreement on strategic problems.

"2. The accumulating jam of routine work that isn't getting prompt attention because there is no one round to . . . instruct the joint chiefs."

Defense officials also said that one of Eisenhower's principal duties will be to work out problems of U. S. military assistance to western Europe in connection with the proposed North Atlantic defense pact.

I have often seen Mrs. Houk's old sewing machine. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Urbanick of R.D. 1, Wampum have or had one cradle that rocked itself when cranked. Mrs. Francis Swogger, Wampum, R.D. 1.

Another example of mildness of the cellar for a home on Hazelcroft avenue was completed in about a day's time. Ground is not frozen solidly for several feet as is usually the case in February in this area.

Special programs will mark many church services in the city on Sunday when brotherhood day will be observed. Visiting speakers are scheduled for some churches of the city while in other instances the regular pastors have scheduled themes on the thought of brotherhood.

No Matter How New They Are Cars Still Need Attention

Automobile manufacturers are not miracle men, although if some of the old timers could return they would think so.

But as fine as cars are made, with all the modern improvements, they are still mechanical devices and as such, they do go wrong at times.

What you think is a minor difficulty may be just that, but unattended they may grow into major difficulties.

The time to take care of your car, new or old, is when it first shows signs of being less than normal. Our mechanics are expert motor diagnosticians, they'll know what's wrong and what should be done.

eral projects were discussed. It was announced that this church will entertain the Shenango Presbyterian missionary group, for their spring meeting, on Thursday, April 21, beginning at 9:30. The Opportunity Circle and M. E. G. auxiliary will combine to do the entertaining.

An interesting topic "Barbara Scotia School", was presented by
Mrs. Clifford Comstock and Mrs.
P. A. Gibson.

After a social period, a tasty lunch was served by the hostess, and co-hostess Mrs. Herman Alexander.

Next meeting will take the form of a tureen anniversary dinner, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Comstock 226 Fairmont avenue, on March 10, with the executive committee in charge.

Somewhat Alarmed By Molesting
Cases On Streets Of City
Recently

Mayor John F. Haven, somewhat alarmed by the pursuit by two youths of a girl of tender age, recently, in West State street, asked the co-operation of citizens in helping to prevent acts of this kind.

He said that recently there have been a number of complaints received of prowlers, and explained that while this city has been fortunate in not having any serious outbreak of sex offenses, he desired—

That citizens observe the license number of any automobile in which a person picks up a young girl.
The license number of any auto operated by a "prowler."

And, to promptly report all cases of prowlers.

"Armed with the license number of cars, it is an easy manner for police to obtain the name and owner and to run down such offenses," the mayor declared.

Relative to prowlers, he said that a telephone call should be made quickly as possible to police headquarters, Number 8.

"Do not do anything to frighten the prowler. If possible, do not

CHARM SCHOOL FOR CITY EMPLOYEES

Better service to the public is the goal of a "charm school" which has been started for employees of the city of Milwaukee. Workers are given time off from regular duties to attend classes.

The course consists of eight one-hour lessons, in which those taking it are briefed in the art of pleasant, courteous, prompt and efficient service. Diplomas are awarded to those who pass the exams. So far 90 have graduated. All are reported to be enthusiastic over the opportunity to improve their relations with the public.

The idea was conceived by Milwaukee's 32-year-old mayor, Frank P. Zeidler. The school is the first of its kind in the nation. In personal contact or over the telephone workers must be pleasant and courteous at all times and demonstrate eagerness to serve that is not universal among public employees.

To take the attitude that the public is always right frequently taxes the patience of the most earnest public employee. But to meet day-to-day problems with courtesy and sincerity is certain to prove helpful.

PARTY LINE MANNERS

A party line is better than no telephone at all, but perhaps a resident of Cincinnati, O., whose residence was razed by fire will have some reservations.

When he discovered the fire he rushed to the telephone to report it. He was a party line subscriber, and it is not surprising that he found the line was busy. He was certainly within his rights in demanding a clear line, as he did, but it was all in vain. The other party on the line kept up a placid flow of conversation. Firemen arrived in time to watch the roof fall in.

The occurrence emphasizes the moral responsibilities a modern civilization imposes on everyone. How we conduct ourselves on the telephone, or in the driver's seat of a car, or on a crowded sidewalk, is an excellent indication of our good sense, good manners and maturity.

Which is not to advocate regimented subservience. The bus rider who pays for a seat and can hardly squeeze into the door of the vehicle day after day is not a good American if he endures the imposition without at least attempting to do something about it.

NEED A BOMB SECRET

President Truman's flat opposition to disclosing the number of atomic bombs now possessed by the United States is in line with the sound view that such disclosures would do nothing but jeopardize the Nation's security.

In an editorial in The Inquirer last Sunday it was pointed out that telling the world how many A-bombs are in the American stockpile would be considered threatening to other nations if the number were great and tend to invite attack if the number were small.

Senator McMahon says that Congress, so long as it does not know how many atomic weapons are held, is legislating in the dark on military matters. To an extent that is true, but it is also true of other details of preparedness which are necessarily secret.

It can be argued, as David Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has done, that Congress and the public should be told as much as possible about nuclear fission, which is bound to play a greater and greater part in our lives in peace or war.

But the primary requirements of national security put a limit on disclosures of this sort of information. Telling potential aggressors the exact state of the chief armament upon which our security may depend clearly is well beyond that limit.

DON'T GIVE UP

Directors of physical education say the growth of television raises the greatest challenge ever faced by their profession. Americans are more and more inclined to sit, but some hold-outs have been bestirring themselves occasionally to seek recreation and entertainment outside the home. These may succumb to television, physical education teachers fear.

Already in New York City, one professor wails, children are putting their sleds away early to see the television shows. Instead of participating in games themselves, they are more intrigued by the vision of athletes performing on the screen.

Perhaps the professors of exercise will be compelled to organize television shows of their own. They might employ a renowned athlete to lead a calisthenics drill for the family circle, or persuade an adored Hollywood luminary to lead the kiddies in ring around the rosy. This, repeated at 30-minute intervals, would keep the blood in circulation and remind listeners they still have legs.

If Winter comes, can spring be far behind? In Wyoming the answer is yes.

Truman wants a pay-as-you-go tax plan attached to his tremendous budget. Americans will pay, all right, and the money will certainly go.

A Minnesota woman seeks a divorce because her husband hasn't returned from the Dempsey-Gibbons fight of 1923. Some women have little patience.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The marshalling of all Christianity for a mammoth crusade against Communism appeared today as the likeliest outcome of the extraordinary and secret consistory that Pope Pius has summoned to meet at the Vatican next week.

This expectation arises from the knowledge that the Pope is profoundly distressed by the imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, long one of the most powerful and outspoken warriors in the ranks of the church.

The Pontiff has expressed clearly his extreme sorrow and unbridled indignation over the handling of the Mindszenty case, which the Vatican considers a spurious, illegal and completely atheistic persecution of an innocent man.

Not To Go Unchallenged
But his action in summoning the first meeting of the Papal Senate on a matter of this sort in more than 75 years gave even greater proof of his determination not to let the action go unchallenged for an instant.

When the consistory first was called two days ago, speculation arose immediately regarding what further power lies in the hands of the church to punish those responsible for the cardinal's martyrdom. Excommunication already has been pronounced. This in itself is a measure of solemn extremity.

Now it has been made known that the pontiff will utilize the consistory to deliver an allocution which in due time may be translated into an encyclical or some other form of address for Catholics and the world in general.

It seems entirely logical that Pope Pius should choose this immeasurably solemn occasion to voice an appeal for a union of all Christian faiths in a monumental battle against the foes of religion. Time and again, Pope Pius has offered sanctuary within the Roman Catholic church to all other faiths wishing to join in a concerted move for the preservation of peace and the salvation of mankind.

Exceedingly Propitious
Several factors combine to make the present time an exceedingly propitious one in behalf of his campaign for a unified Christianity.

To begin with, the first high-ranking clergyman to suffer at the hands of the Communists in Hungary was not a Catholic but a Lutheran bishop who was arrested on various charges and sentenced to two years in prison.

This attracted far less attention than the Mindszenty case. In the latter, however, all Christian faiths already have combined in voicing indignation and demanding appropriate and effective counter-action. It is evident that the path already has been chartered for spiritual guidance of the church in the coming year of 1950.

Because of the cardinal's sentence, it cannot be anything but a

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STORIES OF LINCOLN'S BOYHOOD

Just 140 years ago today Abe Lincoln was born. Twice in his early boyhood he almost lost his life, once from being kicked by a horse, once from being almost drowned. The history of the United States might have been very different if he had not survived his boyhood.

From Austin Gollaher, who lived to be over ninety years old, has come down to us this story: "He and I had been going to school together for a year or more, and had become greatly attached to each other. Then school disbanded on account of there being so few scholars and we did not see each other for a long while."

"One Sunday my mother visited the Lincolns and I was taken along. Abe and I played around all day. Finally, we concluded to cross the creek to hunt for some partridges young Lincoln had seen the day before. The creek was swollen by a recent rain, and in crossing on the narrow foot log, Abe fell in. Neither of us could swim. I got a long pole and held it out to Abe, who grabbed it. Then I pulled him ashore."

Badly Scared
"He was almost dead and I was badly scared. I rolled and pounded him in good earnest. Then I got him by the arms and shook him, the water meanwhile pouring out of his mouth. By this means I succeeded in bringing him to, and he was soon all right."

The choicest stories about Abe Lincoln for us and our children are those that relate to his honesty. These stories were told and retold by the people who bought goods at the country store of which Abe Lincoln when a young man was part-owner. One goes something like this:

A woman bought some things at Abe Lincoln's store, paid for them and left. After she had gone, Abe added up the bill again and discovered that he had made a mistake and had charged her six cents too much. As soon as Abe Lincoln closed the store he walked three miles to return the six cents to the woman.

Borrowed a Book
Abe Lincoln didn't have many books to read when he was a boy, but they were good books and he read these books over and over again. One time he borrowed a book from a neighbor. After reading from it one night, Abe pushed it under the rafters by his bed and

Hints On Etiquette

It is not ill-bred to complain to an usher if your seat neighbors in the theater persist in talking and distracting your attention, thus preventing you from hearing and enjoying the performance.

drive right down the line against Communist Godlessness.

And there is a very strong probability that his holiness may link with this campaign the present series of moves by the Democratic nations of the world to fortify themselves against the Red threat—moves exemplified by the Western European Union, the North Atlantic Defense Pact and the European recovery program.

Speaking to the Cardinals of the Sacred Curia and other members of the Papal Senate in absolute secrecy, the Pope can set in motion a cycle of action that eventually will filter down to the priest of the smallest parish in Christendom.

Certainly in modern times the church has never been given a greater opportunity, even though it has meant loss of freedom for Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Vatican's rallying cries in the recent past—excluding war of course—have had to be on a spiritual plane. The present situation is a tangible, physical one. It is harsh punishment meted out to a man on grounds that have been repudiated by large sections of world opinion as part of Communism's outspoken determination to wreck the church.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDIS

Early in January I told you about visiting a friend on New Year's Day.

I told you about the chat I had with him and how he cheered me and asked me to be happy that I was alive and could enjoy all the beauties of this world.

I had to go 'way out to the cemetery to call on that friend of mine—That friend who had been in his grave for the past five years, but who was alive in my memory as on the day we drank our first toast to friendship and happiness.

That column brought many letters. But the one that touched me the most came today.

I give it to you, because there are so many thousands who will understand it and get a bit of comfort, and perhaps a bit of a lesson, out of it.

I would have liked to tell you who wrote the letter and whence it came, but the lady asked me not to mention her name or her city because "it may cause friction in the family."

That, by the way, is the only jarring note in an otherwise beautiful sentiment.

Which, however, is another story.

Here is my correspondent's letter:

"I thoroughly agree with you in four feeling of friendship toward this man who has gone before you. I lost my husband six months ago, and miss him more than anyone can imagine."

"At the time of his death, so many 'friends' of ours tried to console me with 'you'll just have to forget him.' One cannot live forever, etc."

"When he died, I was mute with shock, but my heart within me shouted, 'Why should I forget him?' 'Why should I WANT to forget him? Why should anyone want to forget a beautiful part of one's life, made so by love and companionship?"

"The only happiness I ever knew was brought to me by him. Of course at that time I thought that perhaps my friends did not realize what they advised me to do."

"Six months have proved that they did know what they were saying. My family and I have visited my husband's grave every week since he died."

"His so-called friends have not been there at all. And here is something I could not help but note, going to the cemetery so often."

"The neglect of many of the graves is deplorable. Many have no marker whatsoever. It is just the temporary one put there at the time of the funeral."

"Where are the relatives that mourned so deeply? Where are the 'friends' who proclaimed their friendship to loved ones?"

"Now I know what they meant when they told me 'you'll just have to forget him.'"

"Believe me, they have forgotten."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

In the field of sports . . . a very interesting and important meeting will take place in New Castle come this Sunday afternoon . . . the first time in our history that such a meeting has been held in this fair city . . . The Mid-Atlantic league . . . baseball people for those of you who are a little rusty. Elmer Daily, Ebensburg, Pa., president will be here along with Russell Hockenbury of Scottsdale, Pa., secretary-treasurer of the league.

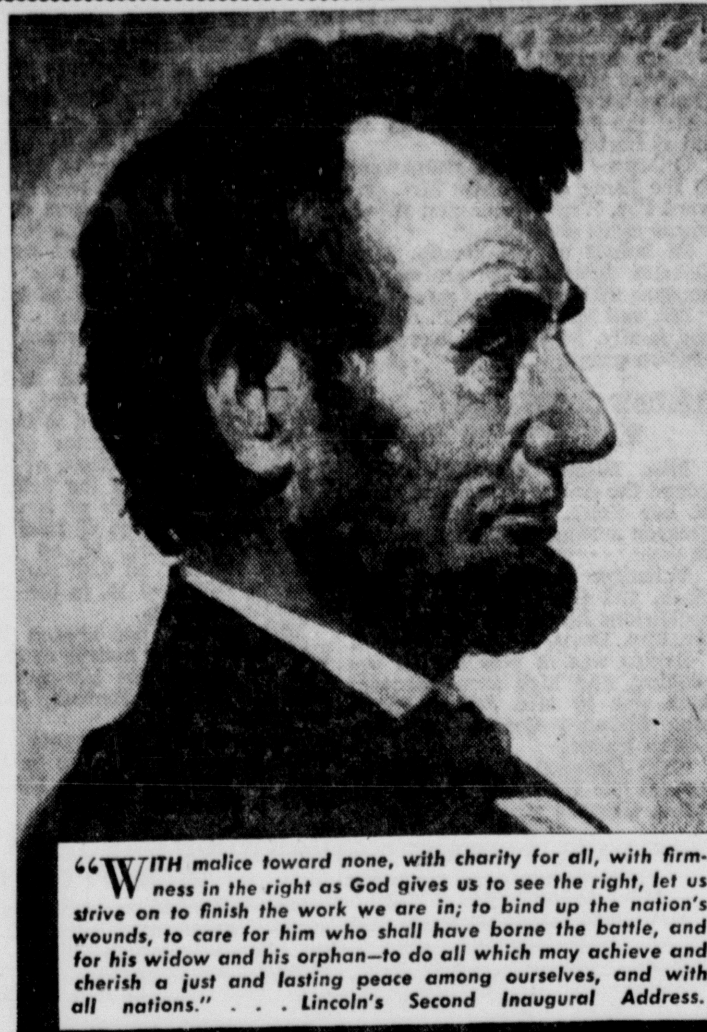

Owners of ball clubs . . . From Youngstown, Oil City, Butler, Johnstown, Uniontown, Erie and Vandergrift will be here . . . the purpose of the meeting is to set the schedule for the coming season . . . Mike Cannavino, general manager of the New Castle Chiefs will of course represent New Castle and it is also interesting to note that Mike was instrumental in having this meeting held here . . . heretofore it has been held in Butler.

What the coming season will bring to the Mid-Atlantic is rather difficult to predict . . . hopes are very high . . . Washington Senators have a working agreement to send players here to help the team . . . is the word . . . Cannavino has been looking around and he sees a bright fast team for New Castle and if a good start favors the lads . . . there is always the pennant up ahead. The league will operate with a split season . . . winner of first half plays winner of second half.

In case you are again interested . . . in sort of a box score of the teams and which team has what backing may we present the following:

New Castle	Detroit Tigers
Butler	Athletics
Youngstown	Phillies
Vandergrift	Brooklyn Dodgers

Lincoln's Words Alive Today

"WITH malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations." . . . Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address.

Washington Calling

Danger In Atlantic Alliance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Looking at a map of the world and a little above the Arctic Circle, you come to the only point in all of Europe at which the border of Soviet Russia coincides with the border of a free European country.

There in that lonely, empty land, covered most of the year with ice and snow, free Norway and totalitarian Russia join for a distance of approximately 100 miles.

Except for border patrols, that line is undefended. The roads are primitive or nonexistent. In general, the same thing is true of the condition in northern Finland where the Finnish border adjoins Sweden and Norway.

Although Finland was conquered by Soviet Russia in the aftermath of the war, Finland is not today occupied by Soviet troops. It is, in effect, a neutral zone between the U. S. S. R. and free, democratic Scandinavia.

Could Be Battleground
But that whole zone can be transferred in a short time into a battleground of the cold war. Troops could be concentrated there, espionage charges could be hurled by both sides, border incidents could erupt and headlines could scream fear and threat and reprisal.

Sweden believes this will happen if Norway enters the Atlantic alliance. That is the reason the Swedes have declined to join the

LINCOLN'S SHADOW
They knew not his greatness who saw him; how gentle he was and how wise!

The heart of him bursting with sorrow; the pity that shone in his eyes,
But they learned it the moment he left them, and we who are living today
And are hoping for peace for our children, can hear him still telling the way.

"Be done with old hatreds," he whispers. "You are children of God, one and all.
I warned them, and you I am warning; the house that's divided will fall;
And never will bitterness vanish and peace in the world cannot be."

"Til the rule of all tyrants is ended and the least of the nations is free.
"There's nothing more precious than freedom, and nothing more evil than might That stuns into silence the voices that dare to speak out for the right."

Still the shadow of Lincoln lies on us, appealing to all with the plea:
"Though weary, rest not from your labors 'til the least of the nations is free."

Those Tax-Exempt "Expenses"

Washington, Feb. 12

PROBABLY the $6,000,000 which it is reported Mr. Truman now asks for renovation of the White House is needed and should be given just as were the salary increases voted before the inauguration. Probably it would be petty to oppose. However, the request has considerably stimulated feeling concerning the new presidential "expense" funds—a feeling which has existed ever since they were provided.

PRIOR to that, there were a great many sentimental editorials and columns concerning the poor, dear President who was unable to get along on $75,000 a year with a $40,000 expense account for travel and entertainment and a rent-free house. Also there was much inky sympathy showered upon the poor dear Vice President, Mr. Barkley, and the poor, dear Speaker, Mr. Rayburn—a bachelor—who had to live on a measly $20,000 a year with a large government-supplied automobile and a government-paid chauffeur thrown in.

THOUGH not one of these three gentlemen had earned in private life anything approaching those salaries there was practically no opposition to the proposals to raise them. In a handsomely nonpartisan way Congress voted Mr. Truman a $25,000 increase and the Messrs. Barkley and Rayburn each $10,000 more. The journalistic commendation was likewise nonpartisan and all but unanimous. When one was told how difficult it was for these officials to make both ends meet, no one wanted to seem small enough to say no. Nor is it intended to say here that this action should not have been taken. What is intended is to point out that if Congress had stopped with the salary increases there would not now be the soreness a good many members feel about the way they were jockeyed into what seems now a somewhat indefensible position.

FOR, on top of that $40,000 annual presidential expense fund, for which the President has to render account, Congress piled on $50,000 more "expense" money for which he does not have to account at all and which is entirely tax exempt. At the same time it provided the poor, dear Vice President and the poor, dear Speaker each with tax-exempt $10,000 a year expense money (for expenses of which no one has any idea) and for which they do not have to account either. Now, several rather trenchant points are being made concerning all this tax-exempt, not to be accounted for, money (particularly, the President's $50,000), which are making some of those who voted it slightly uncomfortable.

IN respect to the $50,000 for Mr. Truman the points are: (1) That it is basically indefensible to appropriate any money out of the United States Treasury for "expenses" unless it is to be accounted for. No one can defend the other course and it is a shockingly bad precedent—particularly for a President; (2) the President in the last fiscal year was able to spend only 80 per cent, or $32,000, of his $40,000 expense fund, the balance of $8,000 reverting to the Treasury. In no year since he has been in office has he spent anywhere near the full amount; (3) the tax-free feature of the not to be accounted for $50,000, added to his increased salary, gives Mr. Truman, in effect, a total salary considerably in excess of $300,000; (4) the action of Congress, with hearty Administration acquiescence, in voting the tax-free expense funds to the President, the Vice President and the Speaker makes it much more difficult for these officials and Congress to take any step toward reducing the size and cost of government.

IT may seem a small thing but, it is contended, it is not small in principle nor in effect. The appropriation of money for "expenses" not to be accounted for cannot be reconciled with any honest standard and cannot fail to make a bad example of thrift and retrenchment from those who benefit seem hollow and insincere. Certainly, it does not enhance the prospects of the Hoover Commission's plan which depends wholly upon the character of its Administration support. No one really objects to the salary increases. They were meritorious enough. But, distinctly, that is not the case with these tax-free "expense" funds.

THE only two Democratic senators who voted against them at the time were Senator Byrd, of Virginia, and Senator Gillette of Iowa; but, futile as it now is, a good many more have been expressing regret since. Nor does the fact that some time ago when Congress raised their own salaries to $12,500, they appropriated $2,500 (tax free and non-accountable) for the "expenses" of each member ameliorate the situation. It makes it a lot worse that this action of Congress for its own members should be matched by similar action in favor of the three highest officials of the nation. Soon or late, other tax-exempt, nonaccountable appropriations for "expenses" seem sure to follow. Why not?

Ex-Congressman Speaks Tuesday

Hon. Jennings Randolph Will Address Joint Service Club Meeting

TO SPEAK ON AIR POWER FOR PEACE

JENNINGS RANDOLPH

Jennings Randolph, assistant to the president of Capital Airlines, and for 14 years a member of Congress from West Virginia, will address a joint meeting of local service clubs in The Castleton Tuesday noon. The meeting is sponsored by the New Castle Lions club.

Mr. Randolph will speak on "Air Power for World Peace," a subject with which he is most familiar because of his experience with the big airlines concern.

While serving in Congress, Mr. Randolph was recognized as an outstanding legislator, having served as assistant majority whip, chairman of the Civil Service and District of Columbia committees, and acting chairman of the labor committee.

In addition to having an intimate knowledge of world affairs and air power, he is also recognized as a speaker of note, having taught speech at Davis and Elkins college. He was the author of the bill, now a law, to unify the armed forces.

His address is certain to be timely and informative, and a packed dining room is looked for.

Rev. J. C. Rose Will Begin Yearly Series

Beginning this Sunday evening and continuing for the next six weeks, Rev. J. Calvin Rose, of Second U. P. church, will deliver his eleventh annual series of sermons on subjects, related to marriage and home life.

Rev. Rose stated: "The purpose of the series is to call peoples' attention to the requirements of successful courtship and happy marriages. Happy marriages do not just happen. There is a reason for every happy marriage just as there is a reason for every broken home. Through this series we seek to correct false impressions gathered from unreliable sources. Also, to show the importance of a vital religion in mastering the art of living together in the family."

It is recalled that when the first series was preached eleven years ago, an average of two hundred people were present to hear the six sermons. In more recent years the attendance has averaged between five and six hundred people, an indication that the series meets a need in the life of many people.

The sermon themes are found elsewhere in The News.

Blind Trombonist At Croton Church

Sunday evening service of the Croton Methodist church, will feature Mervyn Boyle, blind trombonist and his family from Gibsonia, Pa. The entire group are talented musicians. The service will be largely musical featuring the Gospel hymns, both vocal and instrumental.

Mrs. Boyle will present several marimba numbers as will also Elaine, nine years old. Mr. Boyle, who lost his sight several years ago in a hunting accident, will play several trombone numbers. He will also play with Mervyn III who is 12. The blind trombonist will give his personal testimony of how God's grace has enabled him to overcome personal tragedy in his life. The service starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. James Manor At Highland U. P.

Rev. James G. Manor, of Akron, O., will preach Sunday morning, February 13, at 11 o'clock in Highland U. P. church. Rev. Manor, a step-son of Dr. C. J. Williamson, former pastor of Highland church, has chosen for his theme, "The Problem of Believing."

The speaker, an alumnus of Muskingum college and Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary, formerly resided in this city.

Rabbi I. J. Gruen At First Church

Rabbi Iwan J. Gruen and the congregation of Temple Israel will unite with the members of First Methodist church for the worship service Sunday at 11 a.m. Rabbi Gruen will occupy the pulpit of the church, and will speak on the subject, "The Ordeal of Human Brotherhood." Rev. J. A. Gaier will be in charge of the service. The members of Kiwanis and their families are to be the guests for this service.

A beautiful sound motion picture, "Salt of the Earth," will be shown at the church Sunday at 7 p.m. If you want to see what happens in the life of a man when he decides to go God's way, then you will be interested in seeing this fine sound motion picture. This picture will be part of the Sunday evening Family Fellowship hour at First Methodist church.

Rev. McFarland On Pastors' Hour

Rev. J. L. McFarland, pastor of Second Baptist church, will conduct the New Castle Ministerial association's hour Sunday afternoon, February 13, at 2:30 o'clock over W. K. S. T., local radio station. Rev. McFarland has chosen "The Gospel To The World" as his theme. Appropriate music will be furnished by the choir of Second church under the direction of Mrs. Charles Brown with Mrs. Arthur D. Thomas as accompanist.

ALLIANCE CHURCH TO HEAR FORMER MEMBER

Members of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, will have opportunity to hear one of their former members on Sunday morning and evening when Rev. Russell Haggerty of Royal Oak, Mich., will speak. Rev. Haggerty will be heard at 10:45 a.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. Special music will be featured during the day. Rev. J. H. Boon will be in charge of the services.

NORTHSIDE CHURCH WILL HEAR SERIES

A special series of Sunday evening themes will be presented in the Northside Community church, Wilmington avenue, by the pastor, Melvin Polding, starting Sunday evening.

Included among the special subjects are the following: "Are We Living in the Last Days?" "Will Christ Come in This Generation?" "Greatest Event in the history of the World," "Anti-Christ," "Great Tribulation," "Last Prayer Meeting" and "Russia and Communism" and many others.

St. Paul's Lutheran Youth To Participate

Sunday evening's service at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Jefferson and Grant streets, Rev. O. J. War-nath, pastor will be under the auspices of the Luther League. The newly-elected Luther League officers, James Brest, Jr., president; Albert Kalajainen, vice-president; Miss Thelma Prankratz, secretary and Miss Sara Lintz, treasurer, will be installed into their respective offices. The young peoples' choir under the direction of Miss Ruth Weir will offer special numbers.

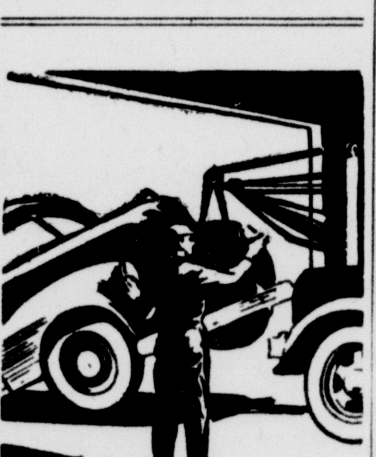

ORGANIZE NEW STUDY GROUP AT CHURCH

First Congregational church, Reynolds street, has organized a new study group among the young people of the church. At 6 p.m. Sunday the youth will meet in the church parlors for a Bible study. The course will deal with the Construction and Practical Value of the Old Testament. John E. Matthews will preside during the period, with the pastor, Rev. Thomas J. Jones presenting the course of study.

WASHINGTON CALLING

cold-war battlefield were to be extended to northern Europe with Finland serving as an advanced Russian base. Then the possibility of any defense for more than a few days would be highly dubious. What it gets down to is this: Can the United States give Norway the kind of help that would compensate her for becoming a focus of a new cold war?

In my opinion, American policymakers should think hard before answering that question affirmatively. Because of Norway's fear of Russia, accentuated by the latest Soviet notes, the terms of the Atlantic alliance may be watered down to such a degree that it will not increase security.

That is one hazard. Another is that American resources for rearmament may be spread too thinly. Necessary concentration on Norway, growing out of a new cold-war battlefield, would divert arms from western Europe where the need is greater.

Unless careful safeguards are put around it, there is a larger danger in the Atlantic alliance. If military men dominate and get all the arms they inevitably will think essential, then the economic reconstruction of Europe may be permanently sidetracked. And that would make the plotters in the Kremlin very happy.

Gideons Meet At President's Home

New Castle camp Gideons met for their monthly session on Friday evening in the home of the president, Robert Chappell with Mrs. Chappell hostess to the Gideon Auxiliaries. A devotional period was conducted by Mr. Chappell with Ray Bates, representative of the Moody Bible Institute as special speaker.

Plans were made for a rally to take place at Beaver Falls and

New Brighton, March 26 and 27. Special guests of the Gideons were Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Fichter.

During the auxiliary meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Chappell, plans were made to present testimonials to the Jameson "moral nurses" during their capping exercises to be conducted March 11. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Virginia Allen and Mrs. Rose Bender.

WE'LL BE SEEING YOU, WE HOPE AT OUR LADIES' NIGHT PARTY

We have made rather elaborate plans for our annual Ladies' Night dinner party Saturday night, February 19, in the Cathedral.

A tasty dinner, an excellent speaker, former Mayor of Baltimore, Theodore R. McKeldin, and a floor show that is an eye-full and an earfull. The Men About Town, Mildred Don, Aneurin Bodycombe, and a novelty music act that we can't name for you now. It's a surprise.

Next Saturday night we want our friends around us at the party. That includes you. If you haven't been able to get a ticket, call Jim Wheeler, at 2965 and Jim will see to it that you get one.

Folks have been nice enough to say that our annual Ladies' Night dinner party is one of the high spots of the year. This year we would like to see you there.

THE LITTLE WOMAN WILL ENJOY THIS PARTY.

IN COURT HOUSE

Lawrence county's registration total is now less than 39,000. The totals shown by the permanent registration office are 38,429 but this total will fluctuate from day to day.

Recently the office sent out notices of the withdrawal of 3885 names from the qualified voters' list. With these withdrawal went reinstatement notices. All that was needed was to sign the notice and mail it back.

Only 1125 have reinstated themselves. Of the balance many have probably died, others have moved away but it still leaves a large bloc of voters who apparently have no interest in exercising their franchise.

The total of 38,429 is estimated to be about 9000 less than the county should have, perhaps 10,000. In a county of an estimated 110,000 there should be over 50,000 people eligible to register and vote.

This year is an important year politically. In the city, two councilmen, a city controller and four school directors will be elected. In the county, a sheriff, a district attorney, a register and recorder and two jury commissioners will be elected. Every one of the offices affects the lives and welfare of every citizen.

THREE ARE SENTENCED
Three men were sentenced Friday by Judge John G. Lamoree. William D. Smiley was fined $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated. He will be released at the end of three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Michael Ferrare was assessed the costs, the lying-in expenses, the doctor bill and $5 per week upon a moral charge.

Matthew Wylie Morrison, forger and larceny was placed upon probation for one year. He has served a federal sentence for the same offenses.

IT'S "NOO-MISS-MATIST"
Ordinarily Register and Recorder Orville Potter is too busy to engage in small talk, discuss sports or argue the foreign policy of the government.

But start talking about coin collecting and you have an audience. Mr. Potter's hobby is collecting old coins, chiefly old foreign coins of the size of an American silver dollar. He has many rare and unusual coins, one of them a coin bearing the likeness of Queen Anne of Russia, dated 1737.

Talking coins with Mr. Potter gets you the proper pronunciation of the word "numismatist," which is the term applied to coin collectors. A common error is to pronounce it "no-mis-mat-ist." The proper pronunciation is "noo-miss-mat-ist." Or did you know?

CLOSED TODAY
The court house offices had a holiday today, really only half a holiday. Saturday is always a half holiday but today is Lincoln's birthday. Had it fallen on another week day it would have meant a full holiday above the regular schedule.

WEEK'S REGISTRATION
During the week of February 1 there were 20 new registrations. Of this total, 13 were Republican, six Democratic and one Prohibition. Changes of registration saw seven Republicans shift to Democrats and two from Democrat to Republican.

Five Polio Cases
In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Five cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in Pennsylvania since January 1, the State Health department said today.

In the same period of 1948, four cases were listed on Health department books.

Two cases have been reported in Clinton county and one each in Montgomery, Franklin and Lancaster counties.

Toonerville Folks—

By FONTAINE FOX

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 12.—Lionel Barrymore made it plain today that he is feeling just fine, thank you, and the joker who said he was considering retirement is nothing but a doggone fibber.

The eldest of the Barrymore clan pulled himself erect in his wheelchair and eloquently declared:

"I have never given the matter of retiring a thought. Why, young man, I'll be acting and making pictures just as long as I can wiggle. And," he added quickly, "I expect to be wiggling a good many more years!"

Actor 54 Years

The distinguished actor, who is on the way toward his 70th birthday, has devoted 54 of his years to the stage and screen. And he confided that he is eagerly anticipating a great many more anniversaries.

"Just the other day," Barrymore said, "I was reading where some fellow of 104 was retiring. I can't figure out why he should quit now. Probably the only reason he has lived so long is because he kept working."

"Idleness is bad. Horribly bad for the mind and body."

Barrymore's health has improved to such an extent in the past few months that he has been able to climb out of his wheelchair for the first time in a decade. And he also admitted that he certainly does not have to add more gray hairs by worrying over financial problems.

"Sure, I have more than enough money to live on comfortably," he said. "But even if I owed all the money in the world I guarantee you that I would not simply plank myself on a chair and sit out the remaining years of my life."

"Why, young man, I have a good many active years left in these bones!"

Debut as Infant
The actor who made his debut as an infant in the arms of his parents, Georgia Drew and Maurice Barrymore, recalled that he has been asked frequently about his philosophy on life.

"When people ask me that," said one of Hollywood's most beloved and respected citizens, "I tell them I don't know what they are talking about."

"And I don't know what they're talking about, either. Philosophy? What the heck is philosophy anyhow?"

"Young man, I simply go along trying to get the best out of life on strictly a day-to-day basis. I don't worry about tomorrow and I don't care about what happened yesterday."

"Once you start thinking about life and its problems—and begin worrying over the future and regretting the past—you're liable to become mighty confused about the entire doggone proposition."

"I figure," he added, "that if a person lives for the day, does his work well and milks all the pleasure he can from the present, then he'll have as happy a life as he is supposed to have."

Against Building
One-Family Homes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Housing Expediter Woods advocated Friday that the government discourage building of one-family houses for sale and urge construction of multiple-unit apartment dwellings.

Woods told the joint congressional committee on the president's economic report that the government should deliberately discourage one-family houses unless a million housing units can be built in a year.

Earlier, Housing Administrator Foley testified that between 17 million and 18 million dwelling units must be built or rehabilitated by 1960 if the nation is to meet its housing needs. He said the government must assist private industry in doing the job.

Mother Of Six
Burned To Death

SPANGLER, Pa., Feb. 12.—(INS)—Mrs. Jean Puleo, 29, mother of six children was burned to death Friday when her trailer home was destroyed by fire near Spangler.

Coroner Joseph Gavekar said the tragedy was caused by the explosion of a kerosene heating stove.

Mrs. Jessie Puleo, mother-in-law of the victim, was standing in the doorway of the trailer when the explosion occurred. Her clothing caught fire, but she escaped with minor burns.

The victim's husband, a miner, was at work, four of the children were at school and two were playing outside at the time of the explosion.

Brown Resigns As Assistant Secretary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—The White House announced the resignation of John Nicholas Brown as assistant secretary of navy for Africa.

Dan A. Kimball, executive vice president of the Aerojet Engineering Corp., of California was named as Brown's successor.

Appointment of John E. Koehler, of Bethesda, Md., assistant general counsel of the Navy department, as assistant secretary of Navy, also was announced today.

Koehler succeeds Mark Edward Andrews, who resigned recently.

ROSE POINT

MISSIONARY MEETING
The Women's Missionary society of the Oak Grove church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Wilda McCurdy on Thursday, Feb. 3. The day was spent quilting and at noon a delicious tureen dinner was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Gladys Brown. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Alda Fisher. Mrs. Margaret Fisher led the devotionals and Mrs. Anna Gallagher and Mrs. Alda Fisher reviewed the mission study. The ladies adjourned to meet with Mrs. Madge Armstrong in March.

SEEK TO PURCHASE
BIG AIR SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—A group of American Overseas airlines employees launched a fight Friday to buy the Transatlantic Air Service, which Pan American Airways is seeking to absorb.

Some 200 American overseas personnel, ranging from pilots to clerks, filed a petition with the Civil Aeronautics board, asking a halt in proceedings for approval of acquisition of the line by Pan American.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY
IN YOUTH SLAYING

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—(INS)—A plea of not guilty was entered for Seymour Levin, 17, Friday at his arraignment in the knife-and-scissors slaying of Ellis Simons, 12.

Levin, son of a wealthy Philadelphia merchant, will be tried on February 28. He was indicted by an all-woman grand jury Tuesday. Simons was slain January 8. His slashed and bound body was found behind the Levin home.

Average annual farm use of electricity is about 1900 kilowatt-hours per customer.

State Leading In
Cigar Leaf Tobacco,
Buckwheat Output

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers topped all other states in production of buckwheat and cigar leaf tobacco in 1948, it was reported today by the State Agriculture department.

Secretary Miles Horst said the commonwealth ranked third in the country in production of maple sugar and clover-timothy hay, fourth in sour cherries, fifth in grapes and maple syrup, sixth in timothy seed and commercial apples, seventh in potatoes and peaches, eighth in all cherries, ninth in sweet cherries and 10th in pears.

On the basis of value, Pennsylvania buckwheat was first in the nation and cigar leaf tobacco second. Commercial apples, grapes and cherries ranked fourth in value in the nation, Horst said.

Corn had the greatest value of any crop grown in the state at $111,144,000. Hay was next in order with a value of $66,885,000; wheat, $39,461,000; potatoes, $32,051,000; oats, $26,231,000; tobacco, $19,444,000; commercial truck crops, $17,785,000; commercial apples, $9,040,000; barley, $5,506,000; and peaches, $5,019,000.

The total value of all principal crops, $322,198,000, was seven per cent less than their 1947 value of $347,958,000, Horst said.

Yoshida Named As Jap Prime Minister

TOKYO, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Shigeru Yoshida, whose Rightist party won a smashing election victory last month, was re-elected Friday as prime minister of Japan.

The Diet's House of Representatives swept Yoshida back into the highest government office by a vote of 350 out of 451 votes cast.

The action came after Yoshida's outgoing cabinet went through the formality of resigning this morning.

The premier is expected to organize a new cabinet Monday. It probably will be composed of a coalition of ministers from Japan's two strongest conservative parties, Yoshida's Democratic-Liberals and Ken Inukai's Democrats.

Will Need Millions
To Combat Floods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—The Army Engineer Corps told western senators today that it will need 25 million dollars to combat floods if "the worst happens" in snow-blanketed river valleys.

Sen. Chavez (D) N. M., chairman of the Senate Public Works committee, said that he will seek to make the 25 million available if emergencies shape up.

Chavez said that when the deficiency bill, now pending in the House, reaches the Senate he will ask that the $2,500,000 provided for Columbia valley flood control work be expanded to 25 millions for all rivers.

Gen. Eisenhower Warns Against U.S. Dictatorship

Says U.S. in Danger of Falling Under Dictatorship; Over-Centralized Government Cited

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a democracy forum at Columbia university today that the United States is in danger of falling under dictatorship "through a creeping paralysis of thought" and over-centralized government.

Eisenhower, in his last appearance at the university before assuming his duties on Monday as temporary chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, addressed 132 students from 65 schools.

He declared:

"The kind of dictatorship under which we may fall today may come about through a creeping paralysis of thought."

"If we allow the constant drift towards centralized government to continue, there will be a swarming of bureaucrats over the land."

The Columbia president said that this would result in the bureaucrats assuming ownership of most properties, "and dictatorship will result."

Eisenhower urged the students to emulate Abraham Lincoln "who knew how to serve others rather than rule them."

He referred briefly to his own boyhood, saying:

"We were poor, but we didn't know we were poor. Opportunity was on every side."

The five-star general said this was one of the great things about America "because it gives each of us the right to something."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Bookshelves as You Wish Them

Bookshelves are handy things not only for books but for room decoration and for storing away various knickknacks that one keeps around the house. Though department stores keep a good many types on hand, there's an advantage in making your own. Before you say, "That's not for me. I can't saw a board straight or hammer a nail without bending it," consider whether the following method couldn't result in bookshelves you'd like.

Have a carpenter shop finish boards wide enough and long enough for the kind of shelves that fill fit your books. Then get either ordinary bricks or glass ones and use them for the uprights. One can arrange all sorts of combinations with these materials. The weight of the books makes the shelves as steady as you need them to be. This idea may not be too good if you live in earthquake country, but except for that there should be no difficulty.

One particular advantage is the flexibility of the shelves. If, for instance, you decide you want lower ones extending around the room you need only to take off the upper shelves and set them up alongside one of the others.

Sargent To Resume His Duties As City Fireman March 1

Safety Director Davis Announces Transfer From Veterans Advisory Board

Safety Director Richard I. Davis announced today that Frank T. Sargent who has been acting as secretary of the New Castle Veterans Advisory board, will resume his duties as a city fireman, effective March 1.

Mr. Davis said that similar work is being done by federal government and County of Lawrence representatives here, and believes that, to continue the office in city hall, is over-lapping.

The salary paid Mr. Sargent is from the appropriation for the fire department, which is in need of firemen. To maintain Sargent in his present role would leave the department, one fireman short, Mr. Davis stated.

"Mr. Sargent has done a good job as secretary of the advisory committee. He has aided hundreds of veterans who have had service problems, but I believe to continue him in that role, would be only over-lapping," said Mr. Davis.

Mr. Sargent, a past commander of V.F.W. No. 315, was delegated by former Safety Director D. O. Davies, to direct Office of Civilian Defense activities, under the supervision of Mr. Davies, shortly after the war started. He welded together more than 2000 men and women into a civilian organization, who had air raid, fire-warden and fire-fighting stations, all over the city.

After the O.C.D. was disbanded he has served in the post as secretary of the New Castle Veterans Advisory board most efficiently.

PERENNIAL CUTENESS

It's nice to be young and little and cute. The girl to whom these adjectives apply needs nothing more. She can get away with anything short of mayhem. They boys like her. If she says something dumb, they smile and say: "but she's so cute." Of course, if she has a few brain cells too, the world is really her oyster; but she does not really need those to get by in a popularity contest.

Youth, pettiness, daintiness are so super-feminine and appealing. Bigger girls of the same age can't get away with that "little girl" stuff pulled by their cute contemporaries, who can go on and on looking so ingenuously until they hit the thirty mark. But this is something many "cuties" don't realize. They think they have a permanent priority on youth. Not, mind you, that thirty is old. Properly put together, there's nothing more attractive than a woman in her thirties. Nonetheless, thirty has its limitations.

Things that appeared sweet and girlish at 20, look foolish at 30 and obnoxious at 40. So you tiny ones who were in your element during your teens and twenties must be wary of looking foolish after you reach your thirties. Actually a long bob and junior miss clothes coupled with a maturing face defeat the youth seeker's end and make her look older than her years. You need not go "old lady" at thirty. But don't consider yourself an exception to the general rule and try to remain a perennial ingenuite. It can't be done, as I noticed today in the street car when a well-dressed woman of about 40 took my eye.

Hatless and with a below-the-shoulder bob, she looked about 20—from the rear only. When she turned around to display a lined, mature face framed in curly bangs the shock was tremendous. Had she been dressed in accordance with her years, she would have been most attractive. Her junior miss clothes which she had chosen to give her a youthful appearance instead, by contrast, added years.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

SORE MUSCLES
There are a lot of aches back after the first snow fall in the winter.

Snow shoveling uses a lot of muscles which have not been used for a while. Next day these muscles are sore and stiff.

In the spring ballplayers begin to use their muscles a little at a time.

Each day they work a little bit harder. After a while they can play a game of ball and not have aching arms.

Perhaps it is a good idea for everyone to use all the muscles every day. Mom gets her exercise by washing Butch's ears and cooking and sweeping and dusting and making beds. Dad says that her jaw muscles will never get stiff for lack of exercise. No that is not a muscle on dad's head. That's a bump.

Soviet Sector German Refugees Seek Haven In Berlin U. S. Sector

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared Friday in his monthly report that an increasing number of Soviet sector German refugees are seeking haven in the U. S. sector of Berlin. He placed the average at 200 weekly.

The American commander also declared, in his monthly reports that Soviet occupation authorities are forcing creation of a "new type" of political party to counteract the waning influence of the S. E. D. German (Communist) party.

He said that the Soviet chiefs are becoming aware of the lack of popular sympathy for the S. E. D. and have constituted a Communist "Elite" to spur pro-Soviet support among other Russian-sponsored mass movements.

Nearing Two Party System
The general's report noted that West Germany is "nearing a two-party system as in the United States" instead of the "multiplicity of conflicting parties that hampered German democracy."

Regarding the Berlin airlift, Clay said that 125,931 tons of supplies were flown into the Soviet-blockaded city, compared with 100,737 tons for November—an increase of more than 25,000 tons.

The report added that West Berlin's food reserves remain high, but that the industrial situation is "unchanged."

It stated that there is a continued shortage of coal and raw materials and that a total of 15,732 plants are either shut down as a result of the blockade or working on a part-time basis.

The commander said that the "world citizen movement" launched by Garry Davis in Paris had had its effect in West Berlin, where "a small group of opportunists" began a campaign for world citizenship "but met little response."

The report, in conclusion, declared that Western Germany's main achievements for 1948 were in the return of political and economic controls to Germans accompanied by steady recovery.

FRESHEN LINENS FOR VALENTINE PARTIES

Take time to get your party linens looking their best for February parties. If there were any stains accidentally left in linens during the Christmas holidays, treat them as new stains. But after using linens for this month's parties, be sure to remove the stains from them soon after they are taken from the table. Stains are easier to recognize and easier to remove if treated immediately.

Common stains left on table linens during a party season usually are caused by salad dressing, fruit, grease, ice cream, coffee, cocoa, and drippings from wax candles.

For salad dressing stain, scrape off any excess dressing, sponge with cold water, then use a grease solvent, or wash the article in soap and water.

Fruit contains a color matter which may persist in remaining in the fiber. Fresh stains usually can be removed by pouring boiling water from a height of 3 or 4 feet. Stretch the stained portion of the fabric taut over a bowl. The force of the water drives out the stain. Avoid washing with soap until the stain is removed. Old fruit stains may be moistened with glycerine, allowed to soak and then washed. Persistent stains on white cotton or linen can be bleached.

Ice cream stains require several treatments. Ice cream contains sugar, fat, protein, and sometimes fruit or chocolate. Soak the stain in cold water to dissolve and remove the sugar and protein. Then use a grease solvent. Treat the remaining stain according to its kind.

Tea and coffee stains usually can be removed by washing. If not, a mild bleach may be used on white material. To remove a candle wax stain, scrape off as much of the wax as possible. Place a blotter above and below the spots and apply a hot iron. Use a grease solvent and then bleach, if the stain has been left from coloring in the candle.

Wash all table linens in hot sudsy water, rinse 2 or 3 times and hang straight on the line to dry. Iron with the straight of the goods, fold and store carefully for the next time you entertain.

HANDLE EWES WELL FOR STRONG LAMBS

A good lamb crop this spring will depend very largely upon how the breeding ewes are handled during February and March. W. B. Connell, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, speaking at the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Cooperative Wool Growers recently, emphasized feeding the proper rations, providing ample water and salt, and giving the animals regular exercise.

Good legume hay or grass silage can be fed liberally, and if corn silage is available, it can be supplied at the rate of a bushel basket per day for ten ewes. One precaution is important—not to feed any moldy or frozen silage.

In addition, bred ewes should be getting some grain, about a half pound per head until lambing and after that about a pound per head until they go to pasture. Bred ewes should gain in weight from the time they come in from pasture in the fall until lambing.

One practice farmers occasionally use to get the animals to exercise is to scatter fodder or hay on the snow.

E. NEW CASTLE

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Karen Sue Robinson celebrated her eighth birthday on a recent evening with 24 friends and schoolmates present to share in the fun.

Games were played with prizes going to Delores Brown, Shirley Welker and Linda McKee. Lunch was served by the hostess's mother, assisted by Ruth Snee, a cousin of the honoree, using the red and white valentine motif.

Karen Sue received many lovely gifts in honor of the occasion.

SUNSHINE CLASS MEETS

Miss Sarah Brockius entertained the members of the Sunshine class of the Grace Bible church Tuesday evening at her home on the Princeton road.

Games and contests were the chief diversion with prizes going to Joan Dado, Florence Cumberland, Betty Elden and Miss Mae Pack, their teacher. A valentine box and a white elephant exchange were added features. Mrs. John Brockius served a delicious lunch, assisted by her daughter, Helen. Miss Carol Kalajainen was a special guest. The Next Meeting will be in March, the place to be announced.

EAST NEW CASTLE NOTES

Mrs. Howard Maxwell, who has been confined to her home with the grip, is able to be out.

Mrs. Homer Houck and Mrs. Charles Sanford visited Thursday with Mrs. M. D. Boulden of Castlewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kolacz of Newton Falls, O., visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ritter on Sunday. Mrs. Kolacz will be remembered as Miss Janice Mayberry, formerly of New Castle.

Hugh Miller, who was injured before Christmas while working on the New Castle-Ellwood road with the State Highway department, has returned home from the Ellwood City hospital but is not yet able to return to work.

CHURCH WILL HAVE ANNIVERSARY DAY

COMMUNITY HENS NEST

It's easy to get clean, fresh eggs with the automatic EGG MAID, because the eggs are instantly separated from the hen after laying, immediately cooled, and automatically collected in a safe, separate compartment away from the hens. The automatic EGG MAID discourages broodiness, and prevents the hens eating and breaking eggs. You will get more money for your eggs if you own an automatic EGG MAID, because your eggs will be fresh, clean, and unwashed. Consistory Party Attracts Record Crowd On Friday

Fine Weather Conditions Result
In Packed House For Splendid Entertainment

Last night's Consistory Family party, not only provided one of the finest programs of the year, but it also attracted the biggest crowd which has attended any of these splendid parties, which the entertainment committee, headed by Fred M. Alexander has been providing during the season.

Excellent driving conditions resulted in a large attendance of members from the outlying areas, and by the time the main program was ready to start, an overflow crowd was present, not a vacant seat being seen.

The great influx of visitors resulted also in many parking violations, as folks parked in every available inch of space within six blocks of the Cathedral.

The show was an outstanding one, a well balanced program of vaudeville being presented by Ed. Shaughnessy, KDKA radio impresario. After the preliminaries of the evening had been gotten over with, with Miss Lillian Sarver presiding at the Cathedral organ, and a program of movie shorts, there was a period of pep singing, led by David W. Rees, Consistory song leader.

Low Pearsall started the program, and introduced Fred M. Alexander, chairman of the entertainment committee who welcomed the guests and expressed his appreciation at the fine crowd present.

After the main program of entertainment, there was a feature picture, and dancing in the ballroom and dining room. Mr. Shaughnessy introduced Jack Walton, leader of the orchestra, which furnished the music for the evening, and he in turn presided as MC.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS ARE STILL CRITICAL

It was reported at the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning that the condition of Samuel Clements, of 452 Croton avenue, critically injured in an explosion of gasoline at the B. and O. railroad shops, was still very poor today, little improvement being noted.

Little Deborah Alexander, of West State street, who was badly burned last week, is also in a serious condition, it was stated, little improvement having been noted in her condition.

Fruit Growers Re-Elect Officers

Last Year's Officers Are Renamed
At Annual Meeting This Week

All of last year's officers were re-elected at the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Fruit Growers, held this week in Wilmington Grange Hall.

C. M. McCormick, of Scott township, was named president; Everett Boak, of Slippery Rock township, first vice president; Ralph Johnston, of Wilmington township, second vice president; Frank Bozard, of New Castle, third vice president; and Carl Baldwin, of New Castle, secretary and treasurer.

Four county fruit growers discussed the topic, "What Do I Expect From My Orchard?" They were Rankin Johnston and Russell McFarland, of Wilmington township; Frank Bozard, of New Castle, and A. F. Arnold, of Little Beaver.

Afterwards, Carl Bittner, of Penn State College, extension fruit specialist, discussed the care and feeding of the apple orchard, while Henry Menusen and A. H. Bauer, extension specialists, discussed control of insects and diseases on fruits, and small fruit culture.

Ladies of the New Wilmington Grange, served dinner at noon, and in the afternoon, Miss Patricia Kelley, Home Economics Extension worker had a program for the ladies.

GIRLS CIRCLE HAS MEETING

Members of the Girls Circle of the Third U. P. church met Friday evening in the church. This organization is made up of teen age girls and is sponsored by the church's missionary society.

A new project was started by the girls at this meeting. They are making dolls to be given to less fortunate children.

A Valentine party was held as the main feature of the evening. The table was decorated in white and red with an arrangement of hearts marking the centerpiece. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. P. D. Gibson and Mrs. Fred Thompson, supervisors for the evening.

The next meeting will be at the church March 11.

Philadelphia Elevated Cars Idled By Strike

Cars of the Market Street Elevated Line stand idle on a siding at the 69th street terminal in Philadelphia as company and CIO Transport Workers union officials break up a negotiating conference without sign of an agreement which could end a crippling transportation strike. All Philadelphia Transportation company buses, trolley cars and subway-elevated trains were halted by the strike for a 20-cent hourly raise and 3,000,000 daily riders had to find other means of transportation.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TODAY'S COLUMN concerns snakes, black and copperhead, the former harmless, the latter poisonous, and very much so. The former may be found on many Lawrence county farms, and in fact, possibly in some yards on the outskirts of the city. So far as is known, there are no copperheads in the county, but Here & There, while fishing, never puts down one of his hands on a ledge of rocks along a stream. According to Noah Webster, there are 46 kinds of snakes, all of which are described as any limbless reptile, having a very elongated body that constitute the group Ophidia, or Serpentes. Geologically, the snakes are of recent origin; at least, this is what Noah denotes.

The bite of some is non-poisonous, but the bite of others, is. Some have salivary glands modified into poison glands, and some of the upper teeth developed into grooved or tubular fangs, and are dangerous. They are predators, living prey being their food, such as insects, small mammals, birds and lizards. These they swallow, in some cases, alive; in other, after poisoning and still other prey is strangled by the coils of the snake's body. Some snakes live on the ground, in holes, crevices; some burrowers, some arboreal, and others are aquatic. They cannot sting with their tail or their forked tongue.

While writing of snakes, it is recalled that recently Frank Kerner, formerly a resident of a farm in Buck Hollow, near Kittanning, told a snake story. He said that when he went to live on the farm, it abounded with blacksnakes, and he killed several dozen. None ever entered the house, and after he mowed the lawn, he did not crawl over it again. The farm had a rocky section and, he dispatched three copperheads. He moved from the farm. His successor discovered there were more copperheads, and in an effort to get rid of them, he found they were lodging beneath a concrete sidewalk. One day he dug up the "walk" and "ran into a den." He killed 30 of the copperheads which were lodged beneath the sidewalk.

So far as can be recalled no copperheads have been killed in Lawrence county, and the statement also applies to rattlesnakes, although during war days, Scotty Gregg, a watchman employed by the city to guard federal property near the park, killed what he, and others, believed to be a timber rattler, in a wood-pile adjacent to the hill, which overlooks the park. Scotty hung the reptile on a wide fence for sight-seeing purposes, but no expert on snakes ever gave it the "once over" so its kind has always remained in doubt. However, it is said that there are copperheads and rattlesnakes in the Oil City-Franklin district, and some rattlers are even said to be in Mercer county districts.

Some farmers will not permit one to kill a non-poisonous snake on their farms, declaring the snakes make "short drift" of insects, rodents and other food destructionists. Fishermen hate snakes as bad as a hunter dislikes cats. One can be angling for fish, see a snake, and immediately he stops fishing and goes after the snake, with but one thought in mind—and that, death to the reptile. They destroy fish, and it is possible that officials of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association may stage a water-snake hunting expedition this spring or summer, to rid the streams of some of the snakes which prey on fish-life. They are as destructive as turtles. A big turtle will eat five pounds of fish a day. Kerner said that some of the blacksnakes he killed were seven feet in length. Last year Jim Hodge, the Harlansburg outdoorsman, who uses a shotgun to shoot em out of trees, killed one which stretch more than five feet, Hodge says. He also recalls that when a boy, he lived at Pulaski, and says that the residents had to cut down a tree because so many blacksnakes used its limbs to sun themselves, they often dropped into wagons passing below the tree. Some years ago Walter Ringer, while at Tyrone, procured an extra-sized reptile which he brought back to New Castle for exhibition purposes. The writer recalls that when Ringling Bros. circus appeared in Union township, he saw chickens, with their feet tied together being fed to the big reptiles which were in the side-show.

JITNEY SERVICE OPERATORS ARE CITED BY P.U.C.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—(INS)—The Public Utility Commission has instituted complaints on its own motion against three individuals allegedly providing unauthorized jitney service in the Alliquippa area.

The commission's complaints alleged that Taft McDaniel, of New Castle, James Wingate and Aldean Waters, both of Alliquippa, transported passengers illegally by motor vehicle in competition with authorized bus service furnished by the Woodlawn and Southern Motor Coach company.

The trio was ordered to file answers to the complaints with the PUC within 10 days. A hearing date will be fixed later by the commission.

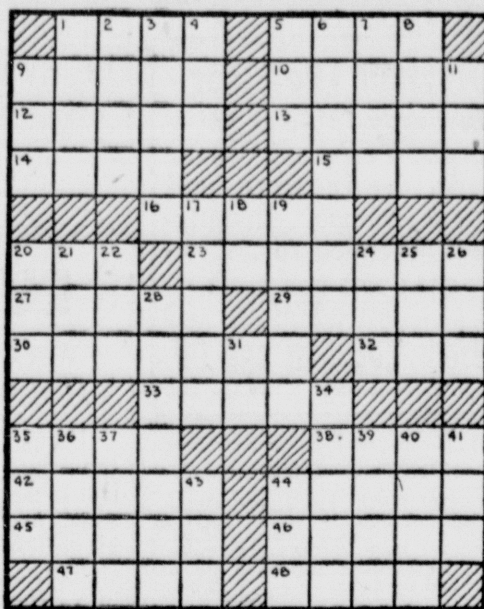

FINDS SLOW LEAKS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(INS)—The General Electric corporation has developed a detector capable of finding leaks so slow they would pass only one ounce of gas in a century. The electronic device is extremely sensitive to fluorine, bromine, chlorine and iodine elements.

New Castle Tops 'Vandies' -- Mt. Jackson Crushes Wampum 72-52

Don Reed Stars With 26 Points In 49 To 45 Win

New Castle Stages Uphill Fight, Trail For Three Periods, Sharon Here Tuesday

New Castle High basketball team snapped its three-game losing streak last night and did it the hard way. After trailing for three periods the Thomas coached passers made a strong fourth quarter finish to upset Vandergrift 49 to 45 at Washington floor.

Young Don Reed, New Castle's brilliant scoring ace, had 26 of the 49 points, to be the outstanding star again, as he has been all year. It was Reed who sparked the "Castles" in the final stanza, as they tied the count four times, and finally shot ahead.

Second Win Over "Vandies" New Castle had previously defeated the "Vandies" at Vandergrift 51 to 48.

It was a smooth working and passing Vandergrift team that took a healthy 14 to 9 lead the first period and shot into a 27 to 20 count at halftime. Reed and Virostek led their respective teams in tallying.

Vandergrift continued its superiority in the third stanza to lead at the finish 36 to 32 with Reed having 20 of the 32 New Castle points.

Rousing Finish New Castle seemed more determined in the final session. Ciaella tied the count at 36-36, the first time New Castle was in the ball game, and from here on it was a ding-dong see-saw affair with the fans really getting off their seats.

Reed tied the count again at 38-38, and also at 40-40, and with four minutes left, Reed tied it up again at 41-41 and then Dick Lewis put New Castle in front with a two-pointer for a 43-41 count. New Castle gradually drew away in the dying moments, thanks to Reed, Lewis and Conti. It was close once again at 46-45, but New Castle held it.

Good Foul Shooting New Castle did very well at the foul line, having 13 out of 22, and Vandergrift made 9 out of 15. In the Vandergrift lineup the work of Patterson, Virostek and Willard was outstanding. Four of the Vandies had double figures.

Dick Lewis, the young junior forward, played his best of the year last night, working the floor nicely and getting nine points. Coach Thomas did not use a sub all night. Conti played a fine game also. Ciaella was great on defense as usual.

New Castle will be back at Washington court next Tuesday meeting the downhearted Sharon High Tigers in a Section Three tilt.

New Castle Reserves won the preliminary game 55-26 from the Vandergrift Reserves.

Mid-Atlantic Baseball Loop Meets Here Sunday

Willie Pep Regains Featherweight Title

By JOHN BARRINGTON (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Willie Pep—as game a little battler as ever wore the purple—gave the lie and the laugh to boxings oldest adage that champions don't come back.

Wee Willy regained his world's featherweight title last night in a rough and roistering 15-rounder against Sandy Saddler, the skinny kid from Harlem who took the crown from him only three months ago.

Pep won a unanimous decision before a packed Madison Square Garden crowd of 19,096, who paid $87,563 for a record featherweight indoor gate.

Partisan Crowd It was a partisan crowd that cheered the ex-champ loudly when he entered the ring. Fully 60 per cent of it came from Pep's own neck of the woods around Hartford, Conn.

Their wagers kept the odds at only 7-4 for Saddler at fight time. They didn't believe that Pep's four-round knockout by Saddler last October was anything but a fluke. Willy make them look like experts.

It was no easy triumph for the battle-scarred Pep. It was wrought with pure fighting heart and all the savvy gained in 138 previous fights. And it was liberally bathed in Willy's own gore.

Both fighters went bleeding from cuts around their eyes when it was over. Pep's right orb was color of rare beefsteak, and Saddler's left one was puffy and nearly closed.

Knew He Had Him Afterwards, pressing an ice bag to his right eye in the dressing room, Pep said:

"I knew I had him after the tenth."

The crowd sensed it, too, and already they're clamoring for a return bout. But that's indefinite.

Third Fight? Saddler let Pep have a chance to regain the crown without a stipulation there'd be a third meeting.

On the premise that Pep may not have another great one left such as he fought last night, many ringers thought Willy might duck another Saddler fight.

Testimonial Tonight Honors Bill McPeak

Pitt Coaches Mike Milligan, Dick Cassiano, Josh Williams Among Others Will Glorify New Castle Star End

National sport figures and New Castle's Joe Grid Fan rub elbows tonight at The Castleton at a testimonial dinner to honor Bill McPeak.

Upwards of 150 admirers of the Pitt end will be on hand for a chicken dinner beginning at 6:30, with an interesting program to follow.

McPeak is the local boy who gained national recognition as a four-year regular for the Pitt Golden Panthers and during that time showed district fans some of the finest line play in Pitt history.

His teammates twice chose him for the Owl award as the "most valuable" player on the squad. Last December McPeak was selected the "best lineman" among district colleges by the Quarterbacks club in Pittsburgh.

Pitt Co-Captain Although playing with unsuccessful teams during his first three seasons as a varsity regular, McPeak's name was a must on practically every all-opponent eleven. He was Pitt co-captain for two years.

Tonight it's the home town's turn to honor one of its most famous citizens. Pitt head coach Mike Milligan and his assistants, Dick Cassiano and Josh Williams, headline the speaking program.

Most of the Pitt triumphs over Purdue and Penn State will be shown, and a barber shop quartet will add musical balance to the festivities.

Seldom has this football minded community had such an opportunity to pay tribute to a local citizen who has distinguished himself on the nation's leading college gridirons.

Tonight they have the chance to tell the modest Winslow avenue athlete how proud they are of him, and to wish him the very best on his venture into the professional football world.

Notables Invited Among those who will sit with the ump and partake of a delectable repast are Michael Cannavino, general manager of the New Castle Chiefs, Elmer Daily, president of the Mid-Atlantic league; Alex Samuels, president of the Lawrence County league; Paul Sankey, president of the North County league; Len Gilbert, president of the city baseball league; Paul Minner, Brooklyn Dodgers hurler; Fred Shaffer, scout for the White Sox; Tex Riffe, scout for the Indians; Jackie Reider, scout for the Braves; Sheriff Frank Coen, Billy Mongiello, newly signed manager of the New Castle Chiefs, and others.

The crowd sensed it, too, and already they're clamoring for a return bout. But that's indefinite.

Third Fight? Saddler let Pep have a chance to regain the crown without a stipulation there'd be a third meeting.

On the premise that Pep may not have another great one left such as he fought last night, many ringers thought Willy might duck another Saddler fight.

Schedule Will Be Drawn Up

Elmer Daily, President Will Preside At Castleton Hotel Session

New Castle will be the focal point for the Middle-Atlantic baseball league Sunday.

At 2 o'clock, the officials of the league, club owners, managers, newspapermen and radio broadcasters will converge on the Castleton Hotel for a schedule arranging session.

Elmer Daily, president of the league since 1926 will preside at the session and will be supported by Secretary-Treasurer Russell Hockenbury. Daily will come from his Elensburg, Pa., home and Hockenbury from Scottsdale.

The league will be starting its 25th year or Silver anniversary. Great things are planned for the circuit this year. The loop was organized by Dick Guy, Pittsburgh newspaperman back in 1924.

Owners of teams from Youngstown, Butler, Vandergrift, Johnstown, Oil City, Uniontown, Erie and New Castle will be present, at the momentous meeting.

First Meeting Here This is the first league meeting to be held in New Castle. The city feels proud of the honor being bestowed on it.

A dinner will be held following the meeting for those who care to stay it was announced.

When the meeting ends here tomorrow, the 1949 schedule will be in its way to the printers. There is a report that the owners favor a 70-game instead of 63 game home card, or 140 games for the season.

The circuit will operate on a split season basis, with the first-half winner meeting the second-half winner. The Shaughnessy playoff has been dropped.

Cannavino-Mongiello Representing the New Castle Chiefs Sunday at the meeting will be Michael Cannavino, Erie city councilman and general manager of the local club, along with Manager William "Billy" Mongiello.

It was through the concentrated efforts of Cannavino that the meeting of the league came to New Castle. Cannavino also proposed the split-season.

There isn't too much time to wait until the boys start snacking them out at P. J. Flaherty Field. The league may shove off around May 3rd this year it was indicated.

To the Mid-Atlantic league folks—greetings.

Titans-Pitt Clash Tonight

The high-scoring basketball machine of Westminster college has a date tonight in the home hall of Dr. H. C. Red Carlson's Pitt Panthers.

Tip-off time for the hardwood battle is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. and will find the Towering Titans out to avenge two close defeats suffered at the hands of the Pitt basketballers last season. Pitt has a return engagement with Westminster on the nearby Farrell court Saturday, Feb. 26.

Pitt Travel Weary The travel-weary Pitt squad returned to classrooms yesterday after a disastrous western trip which billed the Panthers against some of the nation's top teams. Eight straight setbacks suffered on the jaunt make the Skyscraper U record now read eight wins and 11 losses. The Titans edged Bethany 70-66 Tuesday for their tenth win. Westminster has lost five times.

Season's scoring records for the probable Titans starters follow:

PALMER LEADING IN TEXAS OPEN

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Feb. 12.—(INS)—Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., held a slim one-stroke advantage today as the Texas open golf tournament passed the mid-way mark at San Antonio.

The chunky pro added a four-under-par 67 to his first-round 68 for a 133 total to edge Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., at the end of 36 holes.

"Mounties" Need One More Win For Title

A big, determined Mt. Jackson High basketball team practically cinched the Section 23 cage title last night by defeating Wampum 72 to 52.

The Mounties now have an 11 and 1 record in league play and have only two county foes remaining on their schedule. By winning either one of these contests from comparatively weaker teams, the Maroon and Gray will be eligible for a playoff berth.

Indians Scalped Wampum, the only team to defeat Mt. Jackson in county competition, invaded the North Beaver gym last night with high hopes of repeating its previous triumph. The Indians overcame an early 12-4 lead by the Mounties and tied the game at 16 all with 5 minutes remaining in the second period. Bill Emery and company relieved any doubts of the capacity crowd at this point by gunning for 19 points and holding Wampum to only five for the rest of the half. That surge was the ball game.

Indians Falter The Hennon quintet came within 8 points of tying the prospective champions early in the third quarter, but faltered soon thereafter.

Bill Emery was the game's individual high scorer with 24 points. The big Mountie forward got 16 of his teams 35 markers in the first half and was an offensive sparkplug all evening. Sectional high scorer Pat Kerr carried the brunt of the second half attack and added 2 more points to his amazing total of 244 in league play this season.</
